PAUSE IN THE ENEMY'S OFFENSIVE

WHAT ARE HIS INTENTIONS!

TA GERMAN NEWSPAPER EXPLANATION.

LONDON, May 26? The pause in the German offensive is the subject of much comment. Headquarters says the overdue attack French High Commissioner to the is most assuredly coming, but every United States. "M. Tardieu declared day of the pause finds the Allies that American effective troops on better prepared. Their confidence has never been higher, while the The new call for a million men would trump of the on-coming American troops is almost monotonously reassuring. The British are in nowise passively awaiting the German onslought and their daily and nightly raids take a heavy toll of the enemy man-power. 🦤

Reuter's Correspondent at French Headquarters dwells on the difficulty of determining where the enemy will uttack, owing to the new method of employing assaulting masses brought on the battle-field a few hours after artillery preparation begins. mentions that the Germans on March 20th had only four Divisions in line out of 23, ready to move under General von Hutier's command; the remaining 19 Divisions were massed" at distances "varying from 5 to 60 miles from the attackink front. One Division was brought up on the eve of the battle and marched 20 miles into action. Unti the morning of the attack the de fence was unable to determine the sector against which the enormous mass of treops would be launched. The situation to-day is unchanged The number of Divisions in the enemy line is known approximately, but the density of the enemy front does not afford a clue to his intentions. Fortunately, with unity of Command, masses of British, French and American reserves will be available for instant service, wherever the front is threatened.

The semi-official Nord Deutsche AMSTERDAM, May 26. Zeitung finds it necessary to explain the pause in the offensive, and says that it is due to the training of the storming Divisions in fighting methods with a view to diminishing sighted and sank a German subthe bloody losses. It declares the stoppage is not forced on the Germain by the enemy, but is the out come of the Commanders' own plans.

THE WESTERN FRONT. ACTIVE HOSTILE FIRING.

London, May 25

There was active hostile artillery, firing on the Zith in the Villers-Bretonneux sector.

ENEMY TRENCHES RAIDED.

-London, May 26. Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig

We mided trenches southward o Bucquoy at laylight and captured 14 prisoners and two machine guns.

We curried out successful nightruids, castward, of Hebuterne and southward of Neuvillo Vitasse take ing 15 prisoners.

We repulsed raiders in the neighbourhoods of Sully-le-Sec. Bucquoy, Ablainzeville, Festubert and Merris. by 101 leet deep

THE FRENCH FRONT.

A French communique states: There is nothing to report, except intermittent artillery firing, north ind south of the Ayre: Thirty thousand chilos of bumbs were dropped of varous stational and camps in the cucmy zone.

AMERICA'S GIGANTIC

WAR EFFORT. U.S. FORCE IN FRANCE.

WILL BE DOUBLED BEFORE MIDSUMMER.

London, May 26. The gigantic war effort of the United States is well illustrated by Reuter's Correspondent at British the figures given by M. Tardien, the June 6th will be over two millions. following soon as the transport of troops is assured; so the American force in France will be doubled before Midsummer and trebled before the end of the year. The transport of the American troops to France has surpassed considerably the transport of German troops from Russin at its most active period.

The Allies in the final phase will be numerically superior, with the power of an unlimited renewal.

America's exportable surplus of foodstuffs is now over three million. tons. The necessary supplies for the European Allies are assured

AMERICAN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN.

IMPETUS GIVEN BY BOMBING OF BRITISH HOSPITALS.

NEW YORK, May 25. The dastardly German bombing on British hospitals in France has given a marked impetus to the Red Cross curripaign. £13,000,000 has been collected in four days a colossal result which, with the buoyancy of

LONDON, May 25.

The Admiralty says:-One of our Atlantic escort submarines on her return to the base reports that, whilst proceeding to meet her convoy on May 11th in the latitude of 'Cape St. Vincent. she marine of the so-called cruiser type. A heavy sea was running. There were no survivors. Another enemy submarine was sighted and escaped this fate by swift diving.

In view of this being the first crinser submarine destroyed, we have decided to depart from the usual Firld-Marshal Sir Douglas, Haig rule of not announcing the destruction of individual enemy submarines.

> "YINDICTIVE" MOYED BY GERMANS:

CHANNEL AT OSTEND BEING DREDGED.

London, May 25. Ma Archifald Hurd says mavel activities at Bruges are practically at a standstill owing to the blocking of Zeebrugge, but it is known that the enemy his managed to move the stern of the Findictive at Ostend. sensibly increasing the fairway.

The Daily Express says the Germans have slewed the Vindictive, and are dredging the Channe 80 feet wide

The Times says: Though the Timdictive has been moved and is now lying close to the pler, the Germana are not using the Ostend harbour.

SOME OBSERVATIONS BY MR. HALL CAINE.

Sir Edward Clarke, K.C., the famous lawyer, who is writing the "Story of My Life " in the " Evening News,"

"The opening of the second half of the nineteenth century found us with group of writers who were near or who had already reached that age of thirtyseven, which marks the attainment of the highest level of the faculties of man." A correspondence between the famous counsel and Hall Caine, the novelist, appears in the "Observer." "I must limit myself to the history of imaginative literature, which only partly, iment.

I think, justifies your contention," says Hall Caine. "It is true that thirty-seven develops very early, as shown in the case does in many cause seem to me the meri- of Kests (who had written nearly overydian of the imaginative mind. These attacks actually occurred between 24th and 26th April. It was declared to be the hope of the rebels and their German and American friends to blockade the Irish ports against England and establish German submarine bases in Ireland.

THE PLOT MISCARRIES.

The rebellion broke out a day later than the schedule and the German support miscarried and ended in com-

The British Government has the elearest proof that the Irish volunteers were long in communication with the German authorities and received money through Irish-American societies. Soon after the rising it became clear that the Sinn-Fein leaders were again asking Germany's help. Berlin sent a message to Washington on 17th June, advising that Germany was ready with further help if the Irish would only say what opinion will now demand that the sort of help was required.

Count Bernsdorff in a despatch

16th June described the rebellion an stated that £1,000 had been provided for Casement's defence. Bernsdorff, on 25th July; sent a message that the reorganisation of the rabels was progressing and that he had remedied their lack of money. Count Bernedorff, on 5th September, enclosed memorandum from the Irish Revolution Director, resident in America, containing detailed proposals for a fresh was to fix the time and the advantage of submarine and zeppelin bases in the West of Ireland was mentioned as an inducement.

PRESS COMMENT.

"INFAMOUS TREACHERY"

LONDON, May 24. Commenting on the Irish evidence the Daily Telegraph says that even cursory perusal of the evidence justifies the action of the Government and the explanations why the latest evidence cannot be given will satisfy any reasonable person. Possibly some now interned had no direct tressonable communication with the enemy, but will anyone doubt that they knew of the conspiracy in progress and were consenting parties to treason? The Government had the choice of two alternatives, either to wait till the eleventh hour and make a complete bag without bloodshed or wait until the twelfth hour for the cold-blooded murder of Irish policemen which always inaugurates an Irish rebellion. The Government did its duty and public ringleaders be tried and punished without delay. "If the Constituional Nationalists are sincere in disowning symathy for the treason they will surely not hesitate to swell the chorus of detestation in Allied countries at the infamous Sinn Fein treachery.

A PRIMA FACIE CASE ESTABLISHED.

The Daily Express says the Government has established a convincing prima facie case against the Sian Feiners. They should now be tried as public as rising contingent on Germany sending possible. Ireland will listen to them an expedition with a sufficient military no more if they are proved guilty in force to cover the landing. Germany open court; but half Ireland will believe them innocent if they are kept' interned without trial. IRELAND NOT PROGERMAN.

The Daily Chronicle says that the most startling part of the communique in the proof that the rebellion of Easter 1916 had direct German inspiration and was not an impulsive act of hotherd enthusiasts, but part of a carefully planned conspiracy, which, if successful, would have irreparably harmed the cause of Britain and the Allies, including catholic Belgium. But the communique should have provided more substantial Bernsdorff's despatch of December justification for the recent arrests in M. TALES OF THE SEA ASSASSINS.

MURDER AND ROBBERY BY U-BOATS.

Day by day the assassin U-boots commit their pitiful crimes. The story has hitherto been publicly told mainly in the condensed form of weekly totals. A more intimate view of these marine tragedies is now possible.

In one case we read:-" After the veneel was abundoned; shots awere fired unsuccessfully at the ship's boats." And again :- "The crew got into the lifeboat and rowed towards the submarine. Eigh more shots were fired at the lifeboat, followed by four revolver shots,"

JEERS AT THE DROWNING.

There was also an instance of callouscarelessness. Survivors had serambled on to an uptimued boat, and the pirates came alonguide. They were asked to right the little craft. " But no answer was given to us. The submarine then went ahead and put his holm hard over, with the result that all the men on the upturned boat were thrown into the water." Most last." of them got back, but one had the misfortune to be imprisoned under the boat. The pirates could not have failed to hear the poor fellow knocking, but they steamed away. "The man under the boat could not release himself, and to enable him to have air we took the plugout, and that position of affairs remained until we were picked up." Another example of German barbarity may be quoted:-" The submarine come close and flashed her searchlight on the boat and on those in the water, and afte jeering at them made off towards the west. Sixteen lives were lost." But all Germans are not ghouls. Some are gentlemen. It is a delight to publish the following facts, as set forth by the bontswain of a torpedoed ship :- "After getting clear of the vessel's side we were employed in picking up the men who had been thrown out of No. 8 boat when sh was swamped on being lowered; and while we were picking up the men the submaring approached and hailed us, and said. Why don't you pick up your men? Then he picked up two of the men himself; after which we went alongside the submarine and took those two men on board." THE HIGHWAYMAN TOUCH.

Moreover, in connection with another sinking. "The master stated that the officers and men of the submarine were quite friendly and polite." On a different occasion an equally fraternal spirit was We were asked," writes a torpedoed "" When will the war be over ?, * **

Now and then one met the true highwayman touch. For instance :- " The master was searched and £22 5s., with watch and chain, clothes, and matches, yere taken from him." True, something very like extenuating circumstances might have been pleaded. For the norrative went on:- "The officer stated that there was no food left in the submarine, which had been six weeks out from Heligoland. The commanding officer and No. 1 spoke good English and mentioned that food in Germany was very short."

Robbery in one instance took the form of a grim exchange. The commander then bourded" the vessel, removed all clothes, provisions, papers, etc., leaving bombs in the yessel, which subsequently blew up." The cloud of shipwrecked witnesses included one officer who, gifted with some journalistic aptitude, gives an instructive picture of pirate psychology. "Our master, " he writes, " asked how Bremen and Hamburg were looking, and one of the officers of the submarine answered, They are very depressed. He added, 'We ought not to be war with England. The captain was about 25 years of age, thin, fair, and appeared very worried and down-hearted. The first officer seemed a man about 58 years of age, clean-shaven, grey and thick set. He was very low-spirited and very tired of the war." e. YOOD FROM THE AUG.

Thus it would seem that the skull-andcrossbones business does not generate among its followers any great exuberance of apirits. However, it would be incorrect to suppose that the Bocho buccaneer never does anything funny; for the records tell of a shipwrecked man colour being pulled out of the water, carefully photographed, and then suffered to

One torpedoed craw had a stirring sequence of adventures. " After rowing Mr W. Bowers for five minutes," an officer relates, " we saw a submarine coming round the stern of our sinking ship. She was about 50 Bromley and child Dr G. W. Mackean feet away when she hailed us. We went alongside, and the chief officer was taken prisoner. We were then ordered to shove off, and the submarine closed and dived Next day we were sighted by two French hydroplanes; and one of the pilots dropped a lifebelt and package of food, and piece of wood with the inscription. * Cheer up, boys; we'll send you help. At 10 Mr W. E. Clarke ness that was associated perhaps with a.m. we were picked up by a French Mr J. D. Courtney Lt. P. K. Olitaky vessel and safely landed."

Instances abound of unselfish service. Let one suffice. "The stewarders," it recorded. " behaved - exceptionally well, and, with great premnce of mind, gav mufflers and other articles to the crew when they were in the boats. The Marconi operator also stuck to his post to the

GERMANY AND INDIA.

IMPORTANT SPEECH BY LIEUT. GOVERNOR OF PUNJAB.

At a recruiting Durbar at Amritsar, Punjab, about the middle of April, Sir Michael O'Dwyer, authorised by H.E. the Vicerov, announced the grant of Commissions of honorary temporary Lieuteaant to nine distinguished representatives of the martial classes in the Punjab. Appealing for more recruits. emphasised that the operations in Mesopotamia and Pulestine constitute the defence of India. We know, he said, that the Germans are siming at India no less than at other portions of our Empire. Mr H. H. Hortz We know that they have pursued their MrD. J. van HoutenDr J. F. Thysses. object in the past by intrigue and conspirmey and plots to stir up disorder and dissatisfaction in India. Those plots have failed, but it is probable that the enemy will now endeavour to gain his ends by force. In the past Russia stood in the way of German aggression in Asia. The collapse of Russia, which fell by its own folly a helpless prey to anarchy and revolution (such as the Ghadr conspirators sought to involve this Province in) has not only enabled Germany to renew her offensive on the West with redoubled vigour, but has also opened the door to her ambitions in the East. There is, I need hardly say, not a word of truth in India is imminent and that serious trouble [ has already arisen in Baluchistan. petty rising of the Marri tribe has been Mr J. E. GERMAN CARDINAL'S APPEAL TO THE POPE.

AMSTERDAM, May 25. Cardinal Hartmann, in a letter to the friests of Cologne, prohibits processions at present, but with a view of holding the big Corpus Christi procession without danger, he has appealed to the Pope to request the enemy to refrain from aerial attacks during the celebration.

Cardinal Hartmann further directs all church doors to be left open during the services or to be so arranged that they can be opened immediately, and says that if an alarm be given during the service the priest must calm the faithful from the pulpit and request every thought of peace as treason. The would be afforded, Irishmen voluntarily them to leave quietly and go to a -path of sanity and safety which the to come forward and participate in the shelter in the basements of the large war. The tide-table serven below has been compiled at the National Almanac Officein London from the result of the analysisof observations taken by means of anintomatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Besin at Tsim Sha Tsul during the years 1993-9. The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty Chart, which has been found to be 4 feet I inches below mean sea-level To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge, at the Victoria Naval Yardsdd 3 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet-

4 inches to the height given in the table.
